

An Olympic Rower, The Mayor of Vancouver, A Day of Fun at Vancouver Lake for the 25th Annual Row for the Cure

Portland, OR – July 23rd, 2018 – Row for the Cure and Susan G. Komen of Oregon and SW Washington proudly announces the 25th anniversary of the event happening this Saturday, July 28th at Vancouver Lake. Registration opens at 7:30am and will feature a day of festivities, music, food, beverages, and more!

Gold sponsors Compass Oncology, Durham & Bates, and Dynalectric are committed to supporting this fundraising event that provides breast cancer services in our community which has raised more than $522,000 over the last 25 years.

“There are several new opportunities this year including to row with USRowing National Olympian Rower Tiff Wood,” says Ann Berryman, Susan G. Komen Oregon and SW Washington Director of Development and Communications. Wood is a Harvard graduate who has competed on the U.S. Olympic team. Vancouver, Washington’s Mayor, Anne McEnerny-Ogle, will be in attendance. Raffle tickets will be sold with the proceeds going to Susan G. Komen Oregon and SW Washington.

Ann continues, “Competitors can purchase a second off their time and learn how to paddle! Guests can buy food and beverage tickets to enjoy a healthy breakfast from McDonald’s, BBQ from Spin Catering with sides and snacks from Reser’s Fine Foods, and Crater Lake Soda. For those over 21, enjoy the beer garden serving Pyramid Brewing Co., Noble Vine, Dark Horse, and Barefoot Wines.”

Registration is available onsite the day of the event. Parking is $3 cash only. Dogs and other pets are not allowed (except for service animals).
